Ticket Message:

Greetings,

I asked a question at the last board meeting. Unfortunately, Kat Dye failed to properly deliver it, asking only a small portion. Below is the full question, in context, which I will ask again:

"Regarding BCMatters.org financial reporting, and community concern as to such, would the Board consider an Independent Forensic Audit for our books? Any plans to publicly respond to issues raised?"

Kat asked my question as, "Would the Board consider an Independent Forensic Audit for our books?"

Obviously context matters, and of great interest also is a response to the part, "Any plans to publicly respond to issues raised?" "issues raised" being a direct reference to recent reporting at BCMatters.org.

So... do you plan on responding?

Lastly as context, there are substantial public property owner comments made at sections under each article. Here are links to some of the most interesting:

<https://bcmatters.org/save-the-chimneys/#comments>

<https://bcmatters.org/an-update-to-a-cautionary-tale/#comments>

<https://bcmatters.org/a-cautionary-tale/#comments>

<https://bcmatters.org/what-just-happened/#comments>

A theme arises in these comments...

- (A) Lack of Transparency and Fiscal Irresponsibility by the Board and Management
- (B) A forensic audit is needed

Would anyone care to comment specifically on calls for a Forensic Audit. The question should be viewed in the context that clearly property owners (including myself) don't trust the account we are getting.

This is a formal request for information, through the appropriate channel mechanism laid out by the Board / Management policy.

Sincerely,
- david hopkins / lot 4002
